INTRODUCTION

Municipal Council Positions in the Town of Smoky Lake

The Town of Smoky Lake Council consists of a Mayor and four (4) Councillors. The Mayor is the Chief Elected Official of the Town of Smoky Lake and has the duties of both Councillor and Chief Elected Official.

As a potential member of Council, you will have the opportunity to significantly influence the future of the community. All decisions must be made at formal council meetings, held in a public setting, at which quorum is present.

As an elected member of Council, you will be expected to represent the Town of Smoky Lake and act on its behalf, establishing policies, bylaws, and programs therein. It is the job of Administration to implement adopted policies, bylaws, and programs. The Town of Smoky Lake has a competent and dedicated management team whose support, advice, assistance, and understanding of how and why things have developed will be an important learning resource.

Council works with the Chief Administrative Officer to keep informed on what the municipality is doing and rely on Administration to provide them with information so that they can make sound decisions. Staying out of day-to-day operations of the municipality allows Council to concentrate on the community at hand.

Further roles and responsibilities of elected officials are more formally outlined in this package.

Returning Officer

A Returning Officer is a person appointed for the purpose of conducting an election under the Local Authorities Election Act (LAEA). The Returning Officer must be independent and impartial when performing all official duties, ensuring they treat all candidates equally and cannot be influenced by candidates or voters as this can lead to conviction of an election offence.

If you require additional information regarding the election, please contact:

Returning Officer: Dawn Phillips
Phone: 780-656-3674
Email: cao@smokylake.ca

Deputy Returning Officer: Carli Orichowski
Phone: 780-656-3674
Email: legislative@smokylake.ca

Candidate

In the Local Authorities Election Act, a candidate is defined as an individual who has been nominated to run for election in a local jurisdiction as a Mayor, Councillor or School Board trustee.

Qualifications of a Candidate

Under sections 21 & 47(1) of the LAEA, a person may be nominated as a candidate in the Town of Smoky Lake's municipal election if on Nomination Day (September 22, 2025) they are:

- A person that is eligible to vote in that election (being at least 18 years of age and a Canadian Citizen);
- A resident of the Town of Smoky Lake for the 6 consecutive months (March 22, 2025) before Nomination Day (September 22, 2025); and
- Not otherwise ineligible or disqualified under the LAEA (sections 22, 23 and 23.1) or the MGA (section 174).

Ineligibility of a Candidate

Under sections 22 & 23 of the LAEA, a person is not eligible to be nominated as a candidate in any election under the LAEA if on Nomination Day:

- the person is the auditor of the Town of Smoky Lake;
- the person is an employee of the Town of Smoky Lake, unless they have taken a leave of absence;
- the person is indebted to the Town of Smoky Lake for taxes in default of more than $50, excluding current taxes;
 - the person is indebted to the Town of Smoky Lake for any debt exceeding $500 and in default for more than 90 days; or
- the person has, within the previous 10 years, been convicted of an offence under the LAEA, the Election Act, the Election Finances and Contributions Disclosure Act, or the Canada Elections Act (Canada).

All further provisions of ineligibility can be found in sections 22 and 23 of the LAEA. It is the responsibility of the candidate to ensure they are eligible for nomination.

Employees of a Municipality

Under section 22 of the LAEA, Town employees are eligible to be nominated as a candidate for the election if they notify their employer that they will be taking a leave of absence without pay. This notification can be given on or after January 1, 2025.

Under the LAEA, the employer must grant the leave of absence without pay. If the employee is not elected, they may return to work on the fifth day after Election Day (October 27, 2025). If the employee is declared elected, they are deemed to have resigned their position as an employee of the Town of Smoky Lake on the day they take the official Oath of Office as an elected official.

Notice of Intent

Under section 147.22 of the LAEA, a new procedure for the 2025 municipal election is the register of candidates and the notice of intent. Only after filing their notice of intent with the Returning Officer can candidates who intend to participate in the 2025 election accept contributions and incur campaign costs. Candidates will be added to a register of candidates after completing the notice of intent.

Note: A notice of intent is only one stage in the process; it does not guarantee that your name will be on the ballot. You must finish the nomination process between January 1 and September 22, 2025, for your name to be on a ballot.

Instructions: Consent for the Release of Police Information

Criminal Record / Vulnerable Sector Check

- When applying for any Police Records Check, you must provide your consent. Signing this consent signifies that you understand each of the information sources the police or other authorized bodies will check. The purpose of this document is to provide you with that understanding.
- There are two sources of information that comprise what is referred to as police information. Subject to your consent, these two sources of information are searched to determine if they contain personal information that relates to you and which may be disclosed in accordance with applicable laws:
 1. Records in the Investigative and Intelligence data banks contributed by Canadian police agencies to the Canadian Police Information Centre (CPIC) system.
 2. Local police information contained in local agency Occurrence Records Management Systems.

Criminal Record

- Canada's National Repository of Criminal Records is maintained by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP). In Canada, a criminal record is created and maintained through the submission of an individual's criminal fingerprints collected using ink-rolled impressions or through electronic scanning. Creating a criminal record involves the submission of an initial set of prints of an individual charged with an offence. Updating this criminal record involves submitting fingerprints of the individual each subsequent time they are charged with an offence. These prints are used to verify the individual's identity against the existing records in the RCMP National Repository of Criminal Records. Once determined by the courts, the disposition (outcome of the charge) is recorded on the fingerprint form and forwarded to the RCMP National Repository of Criminal Records. The release of criminal record information maintained by the RCMP is governed by federal laws and the Ministerial Directive concerning the Release of Criminal Record Information by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Since the Identification of Criminals Act only allows the taking of fingerprints in relation to indictable or hybrid offences, the RCMP's National Identification of Criminals Act Repository of Criminal Records is fingerprint-based and only contains information relating to these two categories of offences. Summary offences are included in the national repository if submitted to the RCMP as part of an occurrence involving an indictable or hybrid offence. Note: With the exception of "young person" indictable or hybrid offence convictions, police agencies are not required by law to report offences to the RCMP. Therefore, a search of local police records may reveal criminal record information that has not been reported to the RCMP.
- If your fingerprints have never been taken in relation to an arrest and/or charge process, then you do not have a record in the National Repository for Criminal Records maintained by the RCMP. If, however, you do have a criminal record, but were not fingerprinted for all of your subsequent charges and/or convictions, your criminal record will not fully portray the history of your police involvement.

Record Suspension (Pardoned Offences)

- An adult individual who has a criminal record may make an application to the Parole Board of Canada to receive a Record Suspension (Pardon) for one or more convictions. At the completion of a successful Record Suspension (Pardon) application process, all references to the convictions on the criminal record as maintained by the RCMP for which a Record Suspension (Pardon) has been granted are sealed and are no longer available to police agencies or any individual other than the subject of the record. Disclosure of a Record Suspension (Pardoned Offence) is only possible with the consent of the Minister of Public Safety for Canada.
- A Record Suspension (Pardon) does not erase a conviction. It does not allow a person to say that they do not have a criminal record. An individual who has received a Record Suspension (Pardon), when asked, should respond: "Yes, I have been convicted of a criminal offence for which I have received a Record Suspension (Pardon)."
 - Due to the sensitivity of this process, only police agencies or other authorized bodies as determined by a provincial or territorial public safety minister may process system responses that are generated by Vulnerable Sector Checks.

Offences Committed as a Youth

- The Youth Criminal Justice Act restricts the use of information related to charges for offences that were committed as young persons (below the age of 18). Information related to these charges may only be disclosed upon your signed authorization and when it is required by Federal, Provincial or Municipal law, for the purposes of employment or volunteer services with these agencies.
- Two exceptions to this are:
 1. When the young person was sentenced as an adult; and
 2. When an individual is sentenced as an adult prior to the young person charges being sealed. In these cases section 119 of the Youth Criminal Justice Act states that the youth charges are subject to the same disclosure rules as adult convictions.

Investigative and Intelligence Information Contained in CPIC

- Police agencies in Canada use CPIC to share information on persons, property, vehicles and marine vessels in support of law enforcement activities. A record that is added to CPIC belongs to the police agency that added the record. The contributing agency's permission is required in order to use its records to support an investigation or to use as a basis for a decision. Examples of records pertaining to individuals include persons who are wanted, persons who are on probation or subject to a court order, and persons who are charged with offences currently before the court. The disclosure and use of this information as part of a police information check will be governed by the laws that apply to the police agency holding the record.
- The existence of these types of records in relation to an individual does not establish that the individual has a criminal record. Records indicating that an individual has been charged with a criminal offence may mean that the individual has a criminal record however; this is subject to verification of the National Repository of Criminal Records maintained by the RCMP by means of the agency that entered the information on CPIC.

Local Police Information

- Local police information involves non-criminal entries where police respond to a call or complaint. This investigative activity is normally recorded in the police agency's Occurrence Records Management System. Information that is disclosed on the application for a police information check involving local police records systems includes any adverse information (e.g. peace bond) where the individual is identified as having negative contact with the police. Adverse information is defined as an occurrence in which the applicant is the subject of a founded and substantiated complaint relating to a provincial or federal offence: or a suspect, charged with a provincial or federal offence whether acquitted or convicted. Adverse information does not include a file where the applicant is only considered a "victim", or a "witness". The disclosure and use of this information as part of a police information check will be governed by the laws that apply to the police agency holding the record. Many jurisdictions have laws that pertain to the use and disclosure of personal information related to an individual's mental health. It is the responsibility of the police agency to apply those laws.
- The existence of these types of local police records in relation to an individual does not establish that the individual has a criminal record. Local police records indicating that an individual has been charged with a criminal offence may mean that the individual has a criminal record; however, this is subject to verification by means of the National Repository of Criminal Records maintained by the RCMP.
